Referee Management Site?

Yes! It IS possible to implement comprehensive Scheduling and Administration Services for Soccer Referees on the Internet for:

- State Associations
- Leagues and Organizations
- Referee Chapters or Associations

A properly configured and managed Site can provide services and benefits to all parties involved in scheduling, officiating, coaching, and managing soccer matches.

Referees

Soccer referees appreciate the handy, effortless scheduling tools: Using the Referee Management Site they can review assigned Matches; inquire about available Matches; view who else is assigned to a particular game or crew; file completed Match and Misconduct reports; and find out if a match has been paid for.

Assignors

Assignors can breathe easier: the Referee Management Site empowers them to assign Referees to Matches; determine which Referees do not yet have a match on a given date; and use bulk email to find available Referees. (That means no more desperate last minute phone calls!)

Coaches

Coaches have a lot less to worry about now: using the Referee Management Site they can find out which Referee is assigned to their match; ensure that a Referee is scheduled to officiate a match at the correct location; and file Referee Evaluation feedback forms.

Organizations or Clients

League members love the new convenience: They can get up-to-date event and scheduling information; book Referees for one or more Matches; interrogate the billing status of requested Matches; and can review the Referees' reported standings for Teams, Leagues, Divisions, and Levels.

Administrators

No more paper shuffling: Administrators have complete back office control from one central program! They can easily add, update, or delete any entry in the Site's database – including approving user access to the Site and posting new events or information.

It's Your Site!

While RidgeStar provides the expertise and the necessary technical things (web servers, programming support, etc.), the Referee Management Site is still your site. Certainly, 80% of every Referee Management Site is similar, but each Site is customized to fit your requirements.

You're not getting fit into a "standard" package that cannot be adjusted to meet your requirements. The Referee Management Site operates as you need it to, when you need it to, and in the manner you want it to.

See how using the Web to schedule Referees can save you time, effort, AND money!!!!!!

RidgeStar[1]

RidgeStar is a pioneer in designing and hosting Referee Management Sites (since 1996). Costs can be as little as pennies per match, depending upon the number of matches managed.

Services Provided

RidgeStar provides all the technical expertise, web server space and bandwidth, and (most importantly) the knowledge and background necessary to implement a Referee Management Site.

You provide the knowledge about how your Chapter works, what your specific needs are, and the personnel necessary to operate the site from your organizational standpoint (Assignors, Referees, etc.).

Costs

The cost associated with a Referee Management Site is based upon the number of Database tables involved, the approximate bandwidth requirements, and the specific custom requirements associated with your organization.

Full function Referee Management Sites are based upon the RidgeStar Service Units consumed, from $2,000 and up annually.

Contact

Full function Referee Management Sites are described in detail on the RidgeStar Referees demonstration Site at http://www.Referees.biz
